The Club Series: Every player in FIFA 22 will have their own unique, match-worn kits, and this season The Club Series will go even deeper with kits that represent every minute, every player, and every team in history. Each club has its own unique kit, training ground, and stadium, and they all have their own unique press conference and training ground animations. In addition to the many unique kits, we have improved the animations for every player in the world, with more subtle changes in every aspect of the game. Every player now has their own individual runs and dribble animations and has more control over their dodging and diving. For the first time, any player can be anywhere on the pitch using the Autonomous Behaviour technology. The Autonomous Behaviour technology gives players the ability to be anywhere on the pitch as soon as the ball has been received. When a player is on the pitch, they can run to a particular location on the pitch and even control the ball when the ball is in play. The improved equipment also enhances the animation of key passes, shots, and headers. In FIFA 22, each player has a refined shot and header animation. FIFA Ultimate Team: FUT will have new and improved packs, and players from every team in the game will have their very own unique, match-worn kits. FUT will also include 24-Hour Leagues, and FUT will utilize Live Events that give players the ability to win rewards.
