The PSPS Project seeks to prevent, rather than treat, addiction to and overdose from opioids. The Medical Advisory Board (MAB) will discuss and propose improvements to the RKP Study design and approach. RKP Study Overview The RKP Study is an intervention study that will focus on three segments of the care continuum: Medical Monitoring and Referral, Naloxone (Narcan) Disposal, and Opioid Treatment Programs (OTPs) and their respective services. Subjects are randomized to one of three arms. The RKP Project is being conducted in concert with NNU's proposed, and approved, Phase III clinical trial. The three arms of the trial are: 1) a control arm; 2) RKP with referral and naloxone disposal; and 3) RKP with referral and naloxone disposal and OTP. The MAB will prioritize safety over effectiveness.

For example, the MAB will seek to maintain the integrity of the RKP intervention using data from research. For example, the MAB will seek to maintain the integrity of the RKP intervention using data from a patient portal. The MAB will evaluate the optimal number of visits to the EHR to collect information about the study participants. The MAB may specify that the Medical Management Data Qualification (MMDQ) only be collected at the initial and final visits. The MAB will lead discussions about study design and the number of visits in the study. The Team will collaborate on improvements of the study. The MAB will provide feedback to the team on ways to improve aspects of the study. The MAB will be on a monthly basis to review the progress of the Study and the changes to be made. The MAB may also engage in regular meetings of the Trial Team and the RKP Study team, as needed. Contact Us
